

EXT. EDGE OF WOODS / ABANDONED LOT - SAME 23
Reaching the outskirts of the forest, our unhappy couple starts into a deserted and overgrown parking lot...

ZOLA

Remember what you said to me before we left?

GAVIN

So now you are talking to me?

ZOLA

Remember or not?

GAVIN

Who can that far back?

ZOLA

That was last Tuesday,
Gavin --

GAVIN

-- Only a few decades ago..

ZOLA

(correcting him)
From "now"...

GAVIN

...Guess I must be losing
it...

ZOLA

(after a measured beat)
You told me if I left with you, we'd be good -- Safe, set; Never be apart for so long again --

GAVIN

-- And judging by how things currently stand, I nailed it!

ZOLA

For now...

GAVIN

You wanted to get away from them; We're very, very away
from them..

He stops short at the sight of a decaying structure across the endless lot.
Zola stops too and looks with him

GAVIN (CONT'D)

(half-smiles)

This isn't here anymore..

ZOLA

At least you can take me
shopping.

The half-smile quickly vanishes from his face.
She hurries towards the distant, dead mall and he unenthusiastically follows...